BRIEF PROGRAM DESCRIPTION/GOALS:
Honolulu Community College offers its students the opportunity to study Communication in a program leading to an Academic Subject Certificate in Communication. This academic credential is included on student transcripts and can be the first step toward employment in a variety of professional and academic fields related directly or indirectly to Communication.

DEGREES THAT CAN BE EARNED:
Academic Subject Certificate in Communication (ASC)

WHAT IS UNIQUE ABOUT THE PROGRAM:
• Thinking of majoring in Speech or Communication? Get a jump-start in the direction of declaring your major at a 4-year institution.
• Participate in classroom presentations and debates, conduct human interaction experiments, learn advanced interviewing, persuasion, and leadership techniques.
• Employers consistently rank good interpersonal skills among the top desirable qualities in job candidates. With this academic credential, show employers that you have the interpersonal skills they desire and give yourself a decisive edge over other job candidates.

ITEMIZED ESTIMATE OF EDUCATIONAL COSTS:
• Tuition plus cost of books and supplies.

PROGRAM PREREQUISITES:
Check the College catalog or the program webpage for the most current program prerequisites.